Developing Evaluation Criteria to Assess the Internationalization of Universities

Professor Norio Furushiro

Today, the problem of maintaining the quality of education has been receiving close attention, and in Japan, university self-examinations, self-evaluations, and third-party evaluations are being promoted as solutions. The purpose of this research is to examine standards of evaluation of internationalization and to contribute to the establishment a universal standard or evaluation.

This project started with ten research members as well as five overseas cooperative researchers and in fiscal 2005, with six newly-joined research participants from Japan and overseas on the team, we were successfully able to implement more informative research and study by receiving a range of advice from the new participants. We had an opportunity to report the results of our studies at the NAFSA Annual Conference held in the U.S. and also we held two International Symposia with more than 200 attending in total. The final report of two-year project is reported here. This project is not necessarily finalized but we welcome your input and opinions.

研究代表者 大阪大学留学生センター 教授 古城紀雄

今日、大学教育の質保証の問題が大きくクローズアップされておりますが、日本国内に目を転じてみれば、大学の自己点検・評価ならびに第三者評価が推進されています。本科研費プロジェクトは、大学国際化へむけた取り組みの評価基準の確立に貢献しようとする試みです。

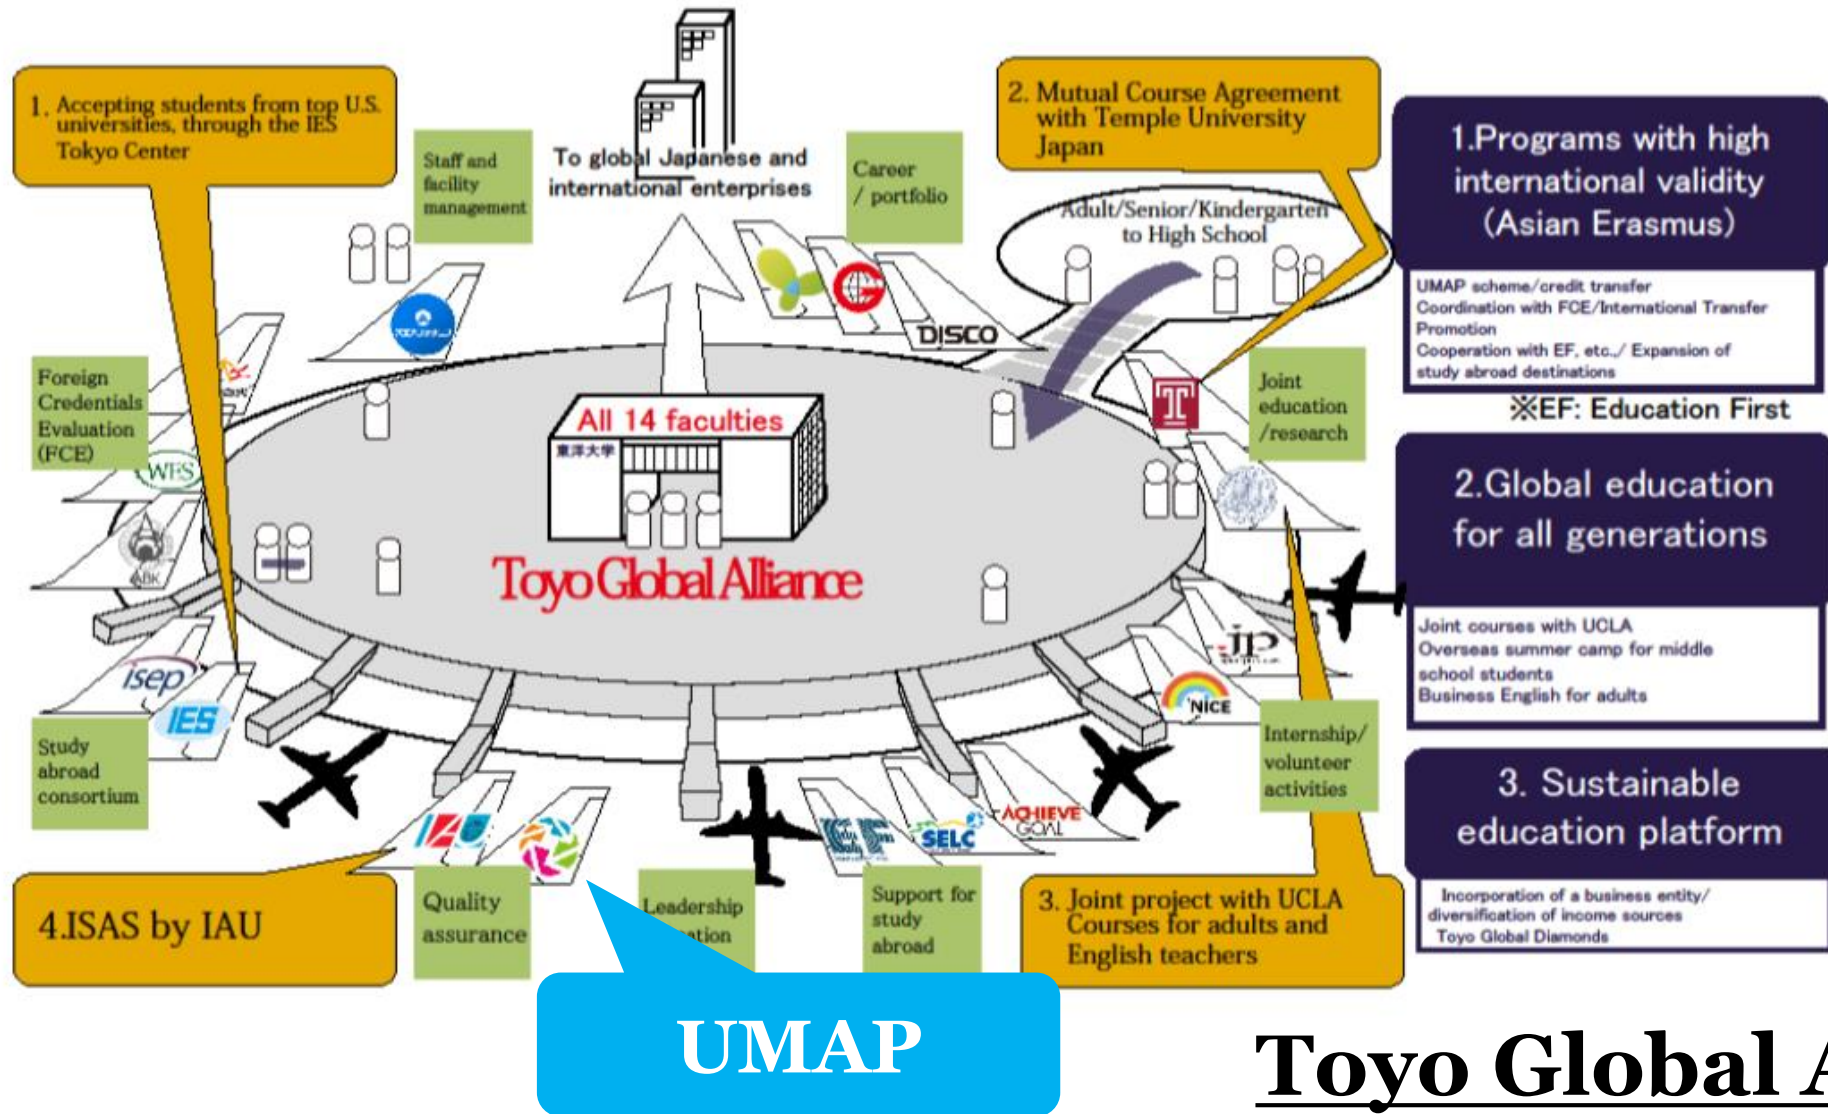

当初10名の研究分担者および5名の海外協力研究者でスタートした本研究も2年目にはさらに6名が加わり、より中身の濃い研究・調査を行うことができました。また研究成果を発表する機会として、2度にわたる国際シンポジウムを開催し、アメリカ合衆国NAFSA年次大会
